

content distribution slidedesk

Description:

Usually used in congresses or conferences, this system allows speakers to unload their presentation files in a secure way, in a workstation defined for this purpose. There, speakers will find specialized technicians, who will put, via network, their presentation file in the computer of the room where they'll make their intervention. This way we guarantee an efficient management of all presentations.

What are the requirements?

This service requires a reserved space in the venue for computers to be placed. The network needed for computers to communicate and distribute content between them is a private network (intranet) setted up by Servicepack, so there is no need to have internet access.

It is indispensable the presence of our technicians durind this service and, depending on the size of the event, the number of technicians allocated may vary.

NOTE: Presentation files received during the period of the event, are immediately erased from our computer equipment for security reasons as soon as the event is finished. In case a copy of all presentation files is required, the event organization should previously inform our technicians and deliver a data storage device such as a USB flash drive, memory card or a hard disc drive for the intent.
